Historical Note:

Howard S. Goller was born on May 4, 1954. He graduated from Shawnee Mission East High School. From 1972 to 1976, he worked as a news editor and reporter for WNUR 89.3 FM in Evanston, Illinois. In 1976, he earned his bachelor’s degree in journalism from Northwestern University and continued his education, earning a master’s degree in law from Yale. From 1976 to 1979, Goller was a reporter for the Kansas City Star and from 1980 to 1984, he was a reporter for the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. In 1984, he worked as a correspondent on Israel and the Palestine Territories for United Press International. In 1985, he began a career with Thomson Reuters, working first out of Jerusalem (1985-2001) before moving to London (2001-2006), Washington, D.C. (2006-2014), and finally New York City. In January 2018, he was appointed Americas Desk Head for Reuters.

Arrangement:

The collection has been arranged into one folder.

Scope and Content Note:

This collection contains two photocopied newspaper articles written by Howard S. Goller regarding the Jewish community of Kansas City. The first, from the Kansas City Times on November 10, 1977, discusses the history of Congregation Beth Shalom. The second, from the Kansas City Star on September 17, 1978, describes the history of the Kansas City Jewish community and was the fourth in a forum series regarding ethnic and racial minorities in Kansas City. This second article also includes a brief biographical note on Goller.
