Historical Note:

The Missouri National Guard organized the Lamar City Guards at Lamar, Missouri, on May 15, 1883. It was later reorganized and re-designated on November 26, 1883, as Company D, 5th Regiment. The regiment was disbanded on April 19, 1887, and would later be reconstituted and reorganized at Lamar, Missouri, on December 14, 1892, in the Missouri National Guard as Company C, 2nd Regiment. The regiment mustered into Federal service at the Jefferson Barracks as a volunteer infantry on May 12, 1898, and then mustered out of Federal service at Albany, Georgia on March 3, 1899.

The Missouri National Guard Company served in the Mexican Border War and underwent many conversions, consolidations, and reorganizations before becoming the 135th Support Detachment on March 15, 2014, with its home station at Lamar, Missouri.

Arrangement:

The collection has been arranged in its original order into one folder.
